MILLIONS FROM U. S. TO BE GIVEN GROWERS SOON

Loans Will Be Made to Help Farmer and Cotton Raiser. Business to Be Aided.

By W. H. ATKINS, International News Service.

Many millions of dollars more in additional Government loans are ready to be distributed to cotton growers of the South, grain growers, and live stock raisers of the Southwest and West.

The War Finance Corporation, expanding its loaning functions for agriculture, along lines mapped out by Congress, today decided to make much heavier advances, as co-operative farming groups and financial institutions have perfected plans to absorb them.

Part of the reduction of nearly $1,000,000,000 in loans at member banks of the Federal Reserve system is due to the far-reaching steps now being made to bring real relief to agriculture. Cotton growers of the South, and growers in other groups, are proceeding with more confidence, liquidating their old obligations and planning new operations along more sound lines.

Officials said today that bankers have been forced to adjust a more liberal policy toward the farmers as a result of the Government's vigorous relief measures. Bankers soon will be seeking borrowers in an effort to place their surplus cash, instead of harassing borrowers to pay up on loans, the report from reserve bank centers indicated, it was stated.

The growers have been lifted out of their perilous credit stringency, and under the cotton price rise stimulus and the more confident price expectations in other lines, are expanding their plans for the future, according to reports to Government boards.

SLAYER TRIES TO ESCAPE NOOSE BY CASHING SELF

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Oct. 27.—Emil Schutte, who was convicted of the murder of three members of the Ball family last week, was sentenced to be hanged on April 19, 1922, at the State prison by Judge W. M. Malbie yesterday.

In the jail in Haddam yesterday morning Schutte attempted to kill himself by cutting his left wrist with a piece of tin. Surgical attention prevented loss of much blood and he was taken to court.

Schutte when placed at the bar said: "I have been robbed of my lands, my money, my bonds, worth $50,000, and my family. I swear to God Almighty that I did not burn the Ball family."

GREAT BRITAIN TO RENEW PACT WITH JAPANESE

General Diaz Forecasts Alliance to Offset Big Naval Program of U. S.

By P. M. MALACRIDE, I. N. S. Staff Correspondent. (Copyright, 1921, by International News Service.)

Great Britain in all probability will renew the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, regardless of the outcome of the conference on the limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions.

Gen. Diaz Forecasts Alliances.

General Armando Diaz, hero of Vittorio Veneto and a dozen other victories, and chief military adviser to the Italian delegation at the forthcoming armament conference, expressed this conviction here today in an exclusive interview granted the International News Service.

Great Britain finds Japanese alliance necessary, the general believes, in order to offset her loss in naval

96 In British Party To Disarmament Conference

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The British delegation to the Washington conference will number ninety-six, including secretaries and experts, Austen Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons yesterday.

That is the minimum number Mr. Chamberlain said, "in view of the importance of the conference to the British Empire."

prestige resulting from the recent large-scale cost-cutting program adopted by the United States.

Italy is ready to support America to the utmost, the general declared. As she has no interests in the Pacific, however, her functions in the Conference will be largely of a moral character.

Skeptical About League.

The League of Nations General Diaz regards with skepticism.

"It was a beautiful Utopia, impossible of realization," he said.

Throughout the interview, which covered practically every phase of international affairs, General Diaz reflected the high hopes he entertains for the success of the Washington conference.

"I am quite optimistic about the forthcoming meeting," he said. "In any case I believe it will clear the international atmosphere, permitting the world to see exactly how each nation stands in the matter of armament."

Isolation Era Over.

"I do not believe though," he continued, "that England will refrain from renewing her alliance with Japan. This is the only means Great Britain has in case of conflict to restore the naval superiority which she has now lost through the recent naval construction by the United States.

"The era of splendid isolation is over, and all nations, even the largest and most powerful, need the alliance and support of others. I believe it is possible for the conference to set the basis of future understandings.

"It is impossible to interpret the Monroe doctrine today in the same way it was interpreted at the time of its enunciation 100 years ago, the general declared. The war has made the world much smaller than it was before. Russia, the granary of Europe, and its reservoir for raw material, will be incapable for many years to come of exporting on a large scale. Europe, therefore, will be forced to import more and more from America, and political intercourse will naturally follow commercial intercourse, he said.

Sees Trouble for Poland.

The recent royal adventure in Hungary is merely a phase of the many troubles which await the newly-born European nations, General Diaz believes, and Poland is in for a considerable share of these troubles unless she changes her policies.

"I see no possibility of an independent political life for Poland," he said. "Unless she will get down to work. The support given her by France is necessarily of a temporary character, and represents a terrific daily expense for France."

Strict military non-intervention, the general said, is the only proper policy for outside nations in dealing with these and similar problems. Time alone can heal the post-war sores.

"As for disarmament, Italy already has reduced her forces to a minimum," the general said. "For her there are no reasons for future war; her frontiers are safe and all that she will need in the future is a small army which will not weigh too heavily on the budget of the state."

Service Already Reduced.

"Military service has already been reduced in Italy from three years to one year, which is the minimum period required to transform a citizen into a soldier. My idea is to organize the scouts, provide pre-military training in gymnastics and similar institutions with sufficient governmental assistance in such a way that we will have subject to call men who are at least half trained.

"Incidentally, I believe this system will be of incalculable benefit in keeping the young men from premature politics and unwholesome surroundings. For police service in Italy we are now providing special forces, such as the Carabinieri and the Guardia Regia, thus enabling us to avoid using ordinary troops for police duty."

Says Red Menace Exaggerated.

"The Communist and Bolshevik danger in Italy has been much exaggerated, especially in the foreign press. After a few inevitable post-war convulsions Italy is now settling down to really hard work, and I believe the financial and commercial recovery will be speedy.

"We Italians consider most social problems with the aid of a sense of humor. We have seen so many political ventures that we are skeptical of new social ideas which promise drastic changes."

KIDDIES TO SOLICIT FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF FUND

If a ruddy-faced youngster steps up to you and asks you to buy a newspaper, a package of pins or a set of postcards, saying the money is for the starving Armenian children, you can rest assured he is carrying out the request of the local Near East relief committee.

For the next ten days Washington school children will vie with each other in earning their contributions to the Near East fund. On Saturday, November 5, they will assemble in their respective school buildings and turn over the money they earned to a committee from the Near East headquarters.

The Washington Near East relief committee officers are Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, honorary chairman; Hugh A. Thrift, chairman; Mrs. Walter R. Tuckerman, vice chairman, and John B. Lerner, treasurer.

Your mother knows our Bond—

SOMETIMES the image before her eyes is just a trifle dull; sometimes in the family chatter she misses a word or two. But she knows about the Bond from which Bond Bread gets its name.

And her taste and her touch are as keen and as right as ever they were in her life. By the aroma, the feel, and the flavor, she knows what is good bread—that our Bond on each wrapper speaks true when it guarantees that we use naught but purest old-fashioned ingredients.

Perhaps she is one of the tens of thousands of mothers who made Bond Bread—sending their own rich homemade loaves in the great competition out of which the Bond Bread formula was born.

Her picture is always before us; the Bond on the wrapper of every loaf is our guarantee that Bond Bread's materials will always be the very same pure materials she used to employ. Our Bond means that we must keep faith with her—your mother.
